TO OUR ADVISOR

The Class of 1956 wishes to thank you for your guidance, friendship, and helpfulness in making our Senior year a memorable and a successful one.

We, therefore, dedicate this book to you as a token of our gratitude.

6/56 Gift

FITCHBURG HIGH SCHOOL
FITCHBURG, MASSACHUSETTS

LAURENCE H. SCANLON, PRINCIPAL
STEPHEN T. WOODBURY, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL, ACADEMIC
RALPH W. HOWARD, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL, BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Commencement Day
June 14, 1956

To the Class of 1956:

Members of a democracy must be prepared to serve society. Sacrifice and service are the cornerstones of the American way of life. Selfishness, greed and unrestrained ambition are incompatible with the principles of government expressly stated in the Constitution of the United States.

You must now take your place in the adult community, prepared to show by your actions that you are democratic Americans. Knowledge gained through formal education is a tool in your hands. How you use that knowledge will determine your personal success as an individual and your status as a detriment to or an asset of society.

The faculty of Fitchburg High School has confidence in your innate sense of right.

Godspeed,

Laurence H. Scanlon

MY FATHER'S EARLY STRUGGLE

DAVID PARK

"Ask, and it shall be given to you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." It was my father's verse in the Bible. Although my father is no longer alive I have very vivid memories of him, and I can never forget his early struggles to study and to educate his children.

There are many books which were written posthumously about my father by his friends. I can not forget the tragic stories my mother told me when I was only fourteen.

If a man entered college in his thirties, we can understand his hardships in life. My father was born the son of a poor farmer in a small town. From early childhood he had a very strong desire to study, and finally rebelled against his father whom he respected so much.

Before he was twenty, he married my mother, and escaped from his father to study at Keisung High School in Taegu, leaving my mother at home with my grandparents. For six days in the week he studied at school which closed at four o'clock in the afternoon. He worked from four to ten at night, selling newspapers on the street or daily delivering milk from door to door. When all of his room-mates were sound asleep in the dormitory, he cooked a handful of rice for his supper. There was nothing on the supper table but a bowl of rice and salt, but he thanked God for his privilege to study. He studied before going to bed.

He got all A's—no B's whatever. Although all of his classmates admired his perseverance and his genius, they could not help him, because they were all too poor.

When winter vacation came, my father went home on foot the distance of forty miles, taking two, three, or four days to save a little money. More than that, he drew a man-drawn cart on the way home to earn a few dollars.

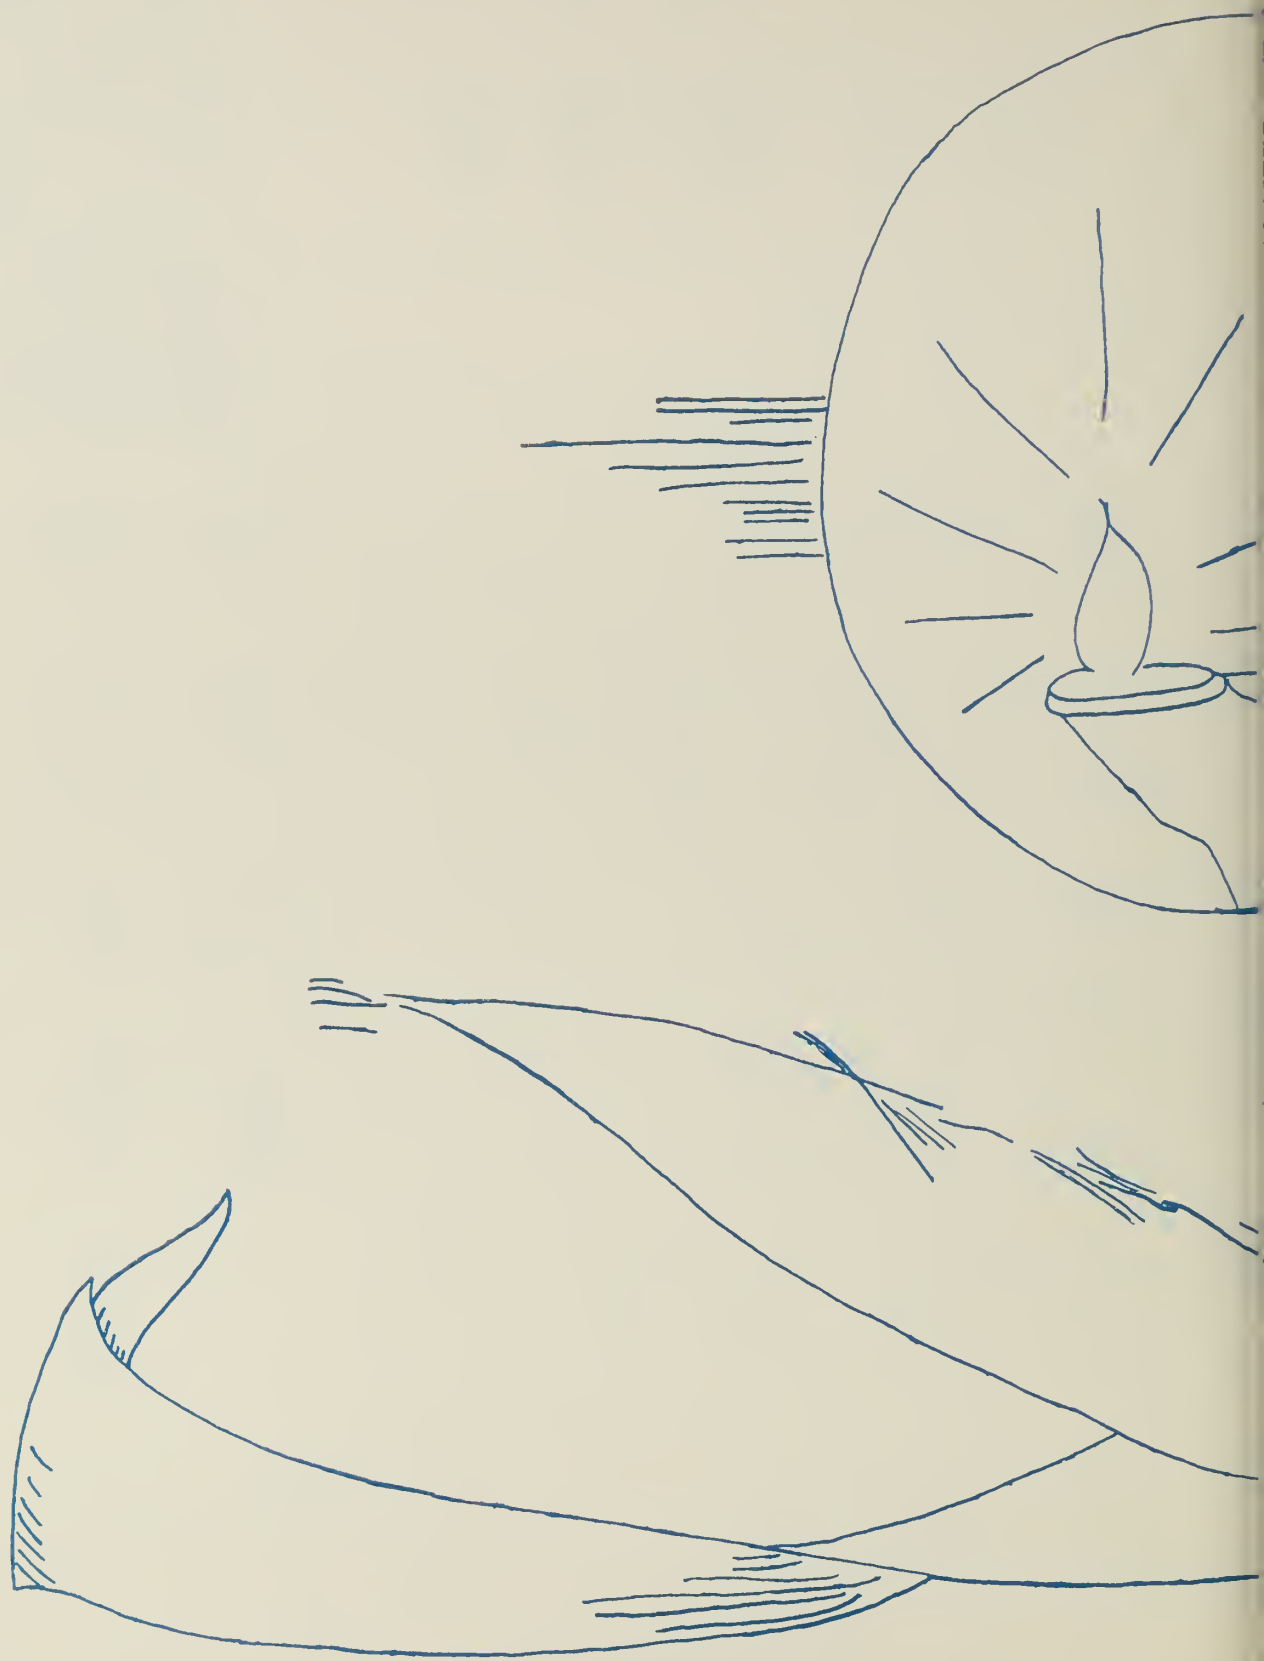

When he reached an inn on the way, he opened his lunch box, and ate the handful of frozen rice he had previously cooked. Later, I heard that many people had called my father the ice-eater.

While my father was struggling for an education my poor mother worked all day long under the direction of my grandparents. She slept only five or six hours a day, and occasionally sold her long black hair to help her husband.

But their long perseverance and hard struggle to conquer their hardships were not in vain. Really the escape of my father from home was the culminating point not only of his success, but that of all his offspring. Every single one of his nine children graduated from high school.

If it were not for my father's hard struggle and my mother's sacrifices, I should be still a poor farmer in an unknown Korean village among precipitous mountains.

CROCKER

The Juniors and Seniors held their annual barbecue at Crocker Field. At one end of the field the "sports" were enjoying a lively game of volleyball, while, at the other end, the food committee was crying over Spanish onions, throwing hamburgers on the grill, and hopefully waiting for the mile-long line of hungry students to end. After eating, Juniors and Seniors both enjoyed a tug-of-war, and, despite the rain which drove most inside, a good time was had by all.

SENIOR RECEPTION

"October 26—The Senior Class held its annual reception to the faculty here at school. The students didn't seem to be hungry (!!!) but the faculty tucked their bibs under their chins and went right to work on that spaghetti. After eating, teachers and students trudged up the stairs to the gym, where entertainment was put on by some members of the Senior Class who obviously couldn't have eaten too much—too nervous! The acts included two novelty dances and a routine by the majorettes. A record dance concluded this successful evening.

P. S. Full is right !!!"

INTRODUCTION

Our goals are now set before us. We look ahead, waiting for the dreams of our future to come true. In these moments before we leave, though, we have time to look back at the four years that have made us ready to begin achieving these goals. Just words . . . but don't they bring memories?

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Excitement—our first chance for recognition—the Play!

Our acting ability was tested and proved.

We've never regretted for a minute our choice of Coach Guazzo as class advisor. He's proved both advisor and father to us all!

We elected our own Class Officers

Ken, our President

"Scrooge"—friend to everyone

Sallie, our Vice President

"Sal"—ambition galore

Jim, our Treasurer

"Der Grosse"—amiable

Nancy, our Secretary

"Nan"—personality plus

These are the four who helped make our class a team.

February . . .

We all worked together as a team to make our Junior Prom a really memorable event. It was a "Southern Holiday," but remember how it snowed?!

We remembered Coach at Christmas with "ZIP," who has become our faithful mascot, loved by all. He has loyally attended all class functions throughout his stay with us.

JUNIOR YEAR

Upperclassmen at last!

December . . . we captured the prizes for best actor and actress in the Open Meeting. The hard work paid off.

June . . .RELAY!!

Blue and white beanies distinguished Juniors clearly from Seniors, and our spirit rose as high as our new flag, which waved proudly over the stands that day. It was a close and exciting race . . . we really gave the Seniors a scare! Our boys did a terrific job.

Afterwards, we all ended up at Coach Guazzo's for a spur-of-the-moment hot dog roast, that turned out to be lots of fun. For the Class of '56, this was a day to remember.

Mad dash
to the fourth floor

February—

CLASS
IN!!

We rule the roost!

We're SENIORS!!

October . . .

Ah! . . . smell that spaghetti!

. . . looks good.

. . . is good.

. . . was good!

. . . on a full stomach . . .?

RESULT . . . good time.

"We've got the pep . . .!"

And we did have! Everything about the rally was full of spirit and enthusiasm. Red and white streamers waved in the Senior section, and our cheers were the loudest. We wanted to make our last rally the biggest and best, and it was.

October . . .

picked our class
flower . . .

ROSE.

Our co-captains Lou and Monty sparked our boys on to a season packed with plenty of thrills and spills. Each did his part, to make it an exciting season.

Hearts were the lightest . . . feet the dancingest . . . laughter the gayest . . . reunions the merriest . . . time the bestest at the Thanksgiving Dance.

You should have seen their faces when the Class of '56 walked off with the prizes for . . . the best play . . . the best actress . . . and runner-up for best actor!

Seated: Joyce Johnston, Vice President; Wayne Parker, President. Standing: Alice Buono, Secretary; Roy Weymouth, Treasurer.

To the class of 1957 we leave our many happy memories of . . . broken test tubes in the chemistry laboratory, "fan mail" from the office, madly striking any key in 308, thinking in 304, collecting nickles for gum in 401 for the March of Dimes, creeping crayfish in 210, and, of course, "afternoon tea" with Mr. Woodbury!

1956 CLASS CLOCK

will be placed in our store window sometime in May. Every Senior's name will appear on the clock dial. The clock will be wound so it will stop during the day of graduation. The minute hand will stop at a senior girl's name and she will receive a fine high-grade bracelet watch. The hour hand will stop at a senior boy's name and he will receive a good strap watch. If the winner already has a watch and it was purchased here in 1956 she or he may have $100 in cash instead of a watch.
